

Activity 2: Draft the Job Description and Screening Criteria in Word

Duration: 35 minutes Roles: Daniel Lim (HR) with Priya Nair (hiring manager), working in pairs

Scenario

Priya's brief (hiring_brief.txt) asks for someone who checks the numbers, explains them to finance and coaches two juniors - 'ideally young and hungry, a digital native'. Turn it into a fair advert and screening criteria.

Goal and output

A fair job advert, five must-haves and three nice-to-haves with the evidence for each, and an agreed shortlist rule.

Tools and data to use

Copilot in Word | JD - Senior Data Analyst in the FutureTech-Careers SharePoint site | hiring_brief.txt

Use only the practice files supplied. Never enter real candidate information or company-confidential details into Copilot.

Step by step

Step 1

Read hiring_brief.txt. Underline anything that is about the person rather than the job.

Step 2

Open Word and create a blank document. Select Copilot and type: 'Write a job advert for a Senior Data Analyst at FutureTech Solutions, a Singapore software company. Use /JD - Senior Data Analyst and this brief: [paste the job-related parts of the brief]. Include purpose, key responsibilities, must-have and nice-to-have requirements.'

Step 3

Read the draft. Remove 'young', 'hungry', 'digital native' and anything else that is not about the job, and replace them with what Priya really needs (for example 'checks figures before publishing').

Step 4

Select the text and ask Copilot: 'List five must-have and three nice-to-have criteria from this advert. For each, say what evidence in a resume or interview would show it.'

Step 5

Check the list against the five competencies in the approved JD. Keep, edit or drop each one and write the reason.

Step 6

Agree the shortlist rule with your partner - for example 'meets all five must-haves, or four with a clear reason to interview' - and write a two-line reply to Priya explaining the wording you removed.

If something goes wrong

If Copilot's answer is generic, unfair or not based on your files, keep a copy, add the missing detail to your prompt (goal, context, source or expectations) and try again. If you cannot sign in or an agent does not open, tell your trainer and continue with the templates in this folder - never use real candidate data instead.

You are done when you have

A fair job advert, five must-haves and three nice-to-haves with the evidence for each, and an agreed shortlist rule.
